1. Events

GDDI workshop in Burkina Faso

JIF 2023 at CREG, unpaid domestic work in the spotlight

Meeting of regional representatives on localization and transfer of power

Workshop on GDDI in Burkina Faso

Webinar on Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policy

Capacity building of researchers on GDDI in Dosso (Niger)

Save the Date: GDDI Workshop in Benin

Development Day: Development policies facing the challenges of demographic resilience and vulnerability reduction

Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policies” Webinar Speakers

Webinar on Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policies (session 2)

Resumption of recruitment for the second cohort of the CREG Master’s program (ongoing)

On the occasion of International Women’s Day 2023, women researchers at CREG make a plea for unpaid domestic work. Based on the results of CREG’s research, they shed light on the unrecognized contribution of women to the national economy.

After Togo and Senegal, Burkina Faso produced its Gender DD Index report with funding from Hewlett during a workshop held from February 13 to 15, 2023 in Ziniaré.

How do you define unpaid domestic work and what does CREG do about it?
Receipt of ONDD computer equipment in Benin
From the identification and installation of sites to house the computer equipment of the National Observatory of the Demographic Dividend (ONDD) of Benin took place. The implementation of an automated information system within the framework of the SWEDD-Benin project was entrusted to CREG, in collaboration with the National Institute of Statistics and Demography (INStaD). The objectives of the mission are to ensure that the identified sites are appropriate, to collect the network connectivity requirements and to agree on the upgrading to standards before the deployment phase.

Meeting of the regional representatives on localization and transfer of power.

Entrevue concertée
rencontre des représentants régionaux sur la localisation et transfert de Pouvoir

L’Hôtel Djolof DAKAR
21 mars 2023

The meeting of regional representatives on localization and transfer of power, scheduled to take place at the Djolof Hotel in DAKAR, represents an opportunity for PRB to share its thoughts and perspectives with its various partners. This meeting aims to exchange on the work environment in the context of localization. The participation of CREG, under the leadership of its President Coordinator Pr DRAMANI, illustrates the importance of collaboration between actors for sustainable development and improvement of working conditions in this sector.

This meeting will undoubtedly strengthen the links between partners and stimulate reflection for a better localization and transfer of power.

Capacity Building in Accra
This training, which will take place on March 21, 2023 at the University of Legon, will address key issues such as concepts of temporal poverty, measures of poverty and policies to empower women. The participation of these experts in this workshop demonstrates their willingness to contribute to the promotion of sustainable economic development and to strengthen their expertise in key economic policy areas.

Workshop on GDDI in Burkina Faso
The CREG co-organizes with the ONDD team of Burkina Faso a workshop on Gender and Demographic dividend, Burkina Faso

The CREG, in partnership with HEWLETT and PRB, will soon organize a workshop on Gender and Demographic Dividend in Burkina Faso. This event will bring together parliamentarians and the Minister of Economy, Finance and Forecasting of Burkina Faso. The main objective of this workshop will be to present the results of the gender and demographic dividend (GDD) analyses conducted in the country, in order to sensitize participants to the importance of adopting laws and public policies that promote a better allocation of financial resources to capture the demographic dividend in an inclusive manner.

During the workshop, participants will be invited to exchange ideas and discuss measures to maximize the benefits of the demographic dividend.
ILO estimates show that women perform more than three-quarters of the time in domestic work worldwide. This household production is often used to make up for a lack of public spending on infrastructure and care services, and thus represents a transfer of resources from women to society and the economy. However, this economic contribution is often underestimated and not taken into account in public policies. A webinar is being organized by CREG in collaboration with PRB to discuss the effective inclusion of unpaid domestic work in public policy in Africa.

Webinar on Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policy

The main objective of the workshop will be to sensitize participants on the importance of adopting laws and public policies to better allocate financial resources to capture the demographic dividend in an inclusive manner.

Parliamentarians and the Minister of Economy, Finance and Forecasting will be present to exchange ideas and discuss measures to maximize the benefits of the demographic dividend.

Participants will also share experiences and good practices in promoting gender equality and women’s empowerment. In sum, this workshop will provide an essential platform for dialogue to strengthen the commitment of parliamentarians and key public sector actors to sustainable and inclusive economic growth in Burkina Faso.

GDDI Workshop in Benin

This workshop aims to build the capacity of local researchers in the collection, analysis and interpretation of gender and demographic data.

Participants will also benefit from training sessions on how to use the index to measure progress on gender equality and to assess the impact of policies and programs on women and girls. This training is crucial to enable researchers to better understand the gender dynamics in their countries and to formulate relevant recommendations for policymakers and practitioners.

Development Day: Development policies facing the challenges of demographic resilience and vulnerability reduction

They will also have the opportunity to share experiences and good practices in promoting gender equality and women’s empowerment. In sum, this workshop will provide an essential platform for dialogue to strengthen the commitment of parliamentarians and key public sector actors to sustainable and inclusive economic growth in Benin.
The first edition of the National Development Days started on March 28, 2023 in the Blue Room of the Palais des Congrès. The event is sponsored by Mr. Abdoulaye BIO TCHANÉ, Minister of State for Development and Coordination of Government Action. The conference will focus on development policies to address the challenges of demographic resilience and vulnerability reduction. The CREG and other participants will have three days to reflect and share best practices in population-oriented development policies. The Minister of State emphasized the importance of population dynamics in Benin and discussed the challenges of addressing this situation.

2. Book or article publications

Acknowledgement to the panelists of the webinar “Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policies”

Acknowledgements

Thank you for your commitment and availability. You have really participated in raising awareness on the important issue of unpaid domestic work in Africa. You have definitely contributed to the webinar success.

On behalf of CREG and PRB, we would like to express our acknowledgement:

Aisse Tack

Unpaid domestic work in Africa: questioning public policies:

Acknowledgements

Thank you for your commitment and availability. You have really participated in raising awareness on the important issue of unpaid domestic work in Africa. You have definitely contributed to the webinar success.

On behalf of CREG and PRB, we would like to express our acknowledgement:

Pr. Djemadith Aliou Drummam

Unpaid domestic work in Africa: questioning public policies:

Acknowledgements

Thank you for your commitment and availability. You have really participated in raising awareness on the important issue of unpaid domestic work in Africa. You have definitely contributed to the webinar success.

On behalf of CREG and PRB, we would like to express our acknowledgement:

Pr. Maria S. Floro

Unpaid domestic work in Africa: questioning public policies:

3. Announcements

Webinar on Unpaid Domestic Work: Questioning Public Policies (session 2)

Resumption of recruitment for the second cohort of the CREG Master’s program (ongoing)

Master E.G.P.P

Recrutement de la 2ème Cohorte du Master en Economie Générationnelle et Politiques Publiques en Cours

plus d’informations:

contact.gpe@creg-center.org

assistant.creg@creg-center.org

anglic.gpe@creg-center.org

https://www.linkedin.com/company/cregcenter